TAKE A DRINK FOR G. A. R. HALL FUNDS

Women's Relief Corps to Sell at Broad and Brand Stands

AID FOR REPAIRS

S. W. Brown & Company
Makes Donation of High
Class Products

The universal interest in the effort which members of the Women's Relief Corps are making to raise a fund for the enlargement and improvement of the cherished G. A. R. hall on Glendale avenue has brought to this patriotic organization another money-making proposition. This has come from S. W. Brown & Co., Inc., manufacturers of ginger ale and true fruit beverages. The company has the sole rights on Southern California for the "Polar spray dispenser," for serving an iced, cold, carbonated beverage on draught.

Delegates of the Women's Relief Corps, Mrs. Caroline Kretschmer, president; Mrs. Anna Page, Mrs. Dorothy Page, Mrs. Priscilla Houshel, treasurer, and Mrs. Mary Bennett, will sell the Brown products at stands which will be placed on the corner of Brand and Broadway, one on each side of the street. The stands, the equipment and the beverages will be furnished free of charge by the S. W. Brown company. Proceeds of the sales will, as stated, go to the building and repair fund of the W. R. C.

The beverages are manufactured in steel tanks at the Green Hill factory. This insures uniformity of quality wherever they are served through these dispensers.

Three flavors are carried, viz., Green Hill ginger ale, an entirely new product which is aromatic and made from pure Jamaica ginger, pure sugar, dashes of orange, lemon and lime flavors apportioned correctly with pure water. Loganberry Snap is a delicious drink made from the pure juice of the loganberry. Root Beer is a delightfully honey, satisfying drink flavored with various herbs.

C. OF C. CALLS ALL MEMBERS TO MEET GOVERNOR

Gov. Stephens Authoritatively Announced as Speaker

There are only 250 reservations for the Membership Forum dinner to be given Thursday night at the Chamber of Commerce and at which Governor Stephens will be the principal speaker. These tickets are now on sale at the chamber of commerce, 150 South Brand boulevard; phone Glendale 1262, and anyone desiring tickets will have to hurry, for when these are gone, no more can be sold.

Tickets are $1 each which includes a splendid dinner and an excellent program.

ABANDONED CAR IS REPORTED

Mr. Jackson of 1800 South Brand boulevard reported to the police that an abandoned car was standing in front of his home. It had been there all day, he said. Upon investigation, Officers Baugh and Snyder found a Willys-Knight machine, the engine of which had been frozen. The cushion of the car had been removed, but otherwise it was left unaltered. Desk Sergeant Schaffer had the machine towed to the city hall to await its claimant, by the owner.

AIR MAIL TO BE RETAINED

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The house today agreed to the senate amendment to the postoffice department appropriation bill appropriating $1,900,000 for continuance of the air mail service between New York and San Francisco via Chicago and Omaha.

The house's action means the air mail service will be tried out at least for another year.

NEW COUNSEL
ATLANTA, Ga., May 13.—Judge Erwin C. Clark of Waco, Tex., has been appointed general counsel for the Ku Klux Klan for the state of Texas. It was announced at Klan headquarters here late today.

THE WEATHER
Southern California: Tonight and Sunday, fair.
Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair and continued warm tonight and Sunday.

Opportunity, No Matter How Small, Is Worth While

"What use are you making of the things you have," is asked by James W. Foley in The Listening Post this evening. It isn't the big opportunity that is necessary to make good in this life. It is the person who takes advantage of every chance to better himself, who is the successful man of the world, declares Mr. Foley. Criminal episodes in Chicago leading to the murder of two police officers, are discussed by Henry James in commenting on the day's news and he expresses himself as believing that the residents of the middle west metropolis are indifferent, accustomed to being ruled by crooks. "They will not take the trouble to overthrow the oligarchy of crime," he concludes.

Consistency in our excuses to get out of doing something we do not wish to do, is interestingly discussed by Della Stewart this evening and then John Pilgrim has an exceedingly interesting article for you to read this evening. Dr. Frank Crane analyzes the lack of confidence throughout the world while the editorial columns give an extremely interesting resume of the world's happenings.

This evening's editorial page has some mighty good readable material awaiting you, so turn to it and let it entertain you for a while.

PENDROY WELCOME ACCEPTED BY THE WHOLE CITY

Parties Organized to Inspect Glendale's First Big Store

Pendroy parties, for the opening of Glendale's new store, corner of Harvard and South Brand boulevard, were in progress of organization, since yesterday afternoon's announcement that the new mercantile force in the city will receive the entire body of its prospective patrons, with a generous welcome within its portals, this evening.

No purchases can be made of the thousands of dollars worth of fine merchandise, during the reception tonight.

While the buying power of the city has been awaiting the opening of the store, it will be unable to expend itself for the new organization in Glendale wishes first to meet its patrons face to face and hand to hand.

Of course all of the goods on the shelves back of the polished southern gum counters, will be there for inspection.

Ladies and their escorts who wish to form their own judgments as to the quality of goods that will be offered in the years to come, are at liberty to examine the stock, under the guidance of the rank and file of the organization. But it will be all mind buying tonight.

There will be some wonderful novelties shown. Naturally with every member of the staff striving for the ultimate in value, with no old stock to handicap all starting off fresh—there will be things worth gazing upon with buying eyes.

Among the managers of the departments, there is the usual ambition to achieve a perfect score of appreciation and turn over the stock on record time.

The quick turn-over marks the expert buyer. The race for the record will start Monday.

POSTAL FORCES THANK PRESS FOR HELP

Postmaster Jackson declared today that the postal improvement week went over with flying colors owing to the publicity given by the Glendale Daily Press. In a letter of thanks he declared today:

Glendale Daily Press, Glendale, Calif.

Gentlemen:—Postal Improvement week went over with flying colors in Glendale, resulting in the establishment of a feeling that has never previously existed between the employees of the postoffice and the patrons of same.

I wish at this time on behalf of all employees of this office to extend to you the hearty thanks of all, for your wonderful publicity and support for the cooperation and gratis advertising that has been the means of bringing the postoffice demonstration to the attention of the public.

Without your valuable assistance the week would have been a failure. Sincerely yours,
D. RIPLEY JACKSON.

IMPROVEMENT WEEK WENT OVER WITH FLYING CO- LORS, SAYS POSTMASTER

Has anyone lost a Saxon Four? An automobile of this type was found by the Glendale police at the corner of San Fernando road and Vine street at 3 o'clock this morning. Up to 10 o'clock this morning nothing had been learned as to the owner of the car, but the police are still endeavoring to find him. If you have lost such a machine go to the police department. You may have same by paying the war tax.

PUPILS' WORK IS SHOWN TO PARENTS

Intermediate's Reception
Surpasses All Records of Attendance

GIVE FULL PROGRAM

From Athletics to Class Study the Divisions of System Are Shown

Intermediate's reception to parents and friends Friday night was a huge success, the attendance far surpassing any previous record. By 6:15 visitors were assembling on the campus to witness the athletic work. It was the golden hour of early evening and temperature and light were perfect. Children in gala attire were in high spirits and delighted with the presence of the many visitors who enclosed the field and watched the events with the greatest interest, which were directed by Albert Blanford and Miss Vera Sinclair.

At the boys' end of the field were two work-up games and a relay race. At the east end a spirited baseball game between a girls' team and a boys' team was played, Jeannette Yarbrough being the captain and pitcher of the girls' team. Though the girls did excellent work, they were excited by the unusual occasion and some of the outfielders who chased the ball made random throws into the bleachers which cut down the score, and the boys captured the game.

This was followed by an exceedingly pretty maypole dance in which 16 pretty girls in white, green and court flower-crowned, participated. Then came the flag drill by 48 girls, also in white, which was another beautiful spectacle. By this time the assembly for seventh grade pupils was called and students and visitors packed the auditorium, where the program published in Friday's paper was given to enthusiastic applause.

Almost as dense a crowd of spectators gathered for the second assembly, of eighth grade pupils, when another and longer program was given with credit to the school and the classes, each of which was represented by a number.

It all meant hard work on the part of the teachers, and the harder because it came at the close of the year when commencement festivities are being planned. They were all glad to do it, however, as affairs of this kind are the best possible demonstration of the work they are doing; also because they bring them into sympathetic relations with the parents of the boys and girls they are instructing.

While the outdoor and indoor programs were in progress, classes were reciting in all the rooms of the ground floor, with visitors lining the walls and listening to the lesson with the greatest interest.

In the domestic science department a class of 20 girls, prettily gowned in summer dresses, which many had made themselves, were busy manufacturing cookies. Mothers looked on with pride and wandered into the sewing room, where a beautiful exhibit of summer dresses, aprons and underwear was on display, over which they lingered to exchange congratulations with each other over the wonderful opportunities which the public schools offer the modern grammar school girl.

Meanwhile, a reading class was on in Miss Duffield's room, Miss Lookabaugh was conducting a class in mechanical drawing, Miss Lytle a class in history, Miss Edith Tyler a class in Spanish, which enjoyed itself with a Spanish playlet and with some games in Spanish. Miss Chase led youngsters through the mazes of arithmetic, and Miss Payne's pupils showed how much they knew about geography. There were classes in Latin, taught by Miss Jackson, and lessons in many other subjects in which parents were interested.

No one there, least of all Superintendent White and Miss Noble, the principal, can make any estimate of the number of visitors, but all agree it was the largest attendance ever seen at a patrons' night.

The almost universal comment of the fathers and mothers who watched the work, whether on the athletic field or in the class room, was, "How great a change there has been in school methods and opportunities since I was a youngster! How I wish I could have had such a chance!"

Events were announced through a magnavox generously loaned by the Keno Music shop and operated by Milo Sherrick.

IRISH STILL DOING BATTLE

DUBLIN, May 13.—Three were reported killed and several wounded today in a fight precipitated by an attack in a special constable's car at Newry.

Reinforcements rescued the constables and also captured a hall which is alleged to have been occupied by republican insurgents as a bombing school.

LITTLE LOST DOG FINDS FRIENDS

Mr. Crawford, 1116 South Glendale avenue, found a little lady dog at his home yesterday and he took it in the protection of his sheltering roof. Now he is trying to find its owner. If you are the owner of little Hiline you had better call and get her. Be sure and take a muzzle with you, for Monday is the day when she will be put to rest.

BLACK DIAMOND EXPRESS WRECKED

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 13.—Three persons were killed and 15 injured when the Black Diamond Express on the Lehigh Valley railroad was derailed at North Leroy, near here today.

The train, passing a west-bound passenger train, struck an automobile driven by Thomas Groeg, 70 and after carrying the machine several feet left the tracks, plunged down a steep embankment into a creek. Three coaches, crowded with foreigners, a parlor car and a diner were derailed.

The dead are: Thomas Groeg, driver of the automobile, and an unidentified man and woman believed to have been in the derailed coaches.

NEWBERRY CASE AGAIN TO FRONT

Newberry scandal was given another airing in the senate today during a bitter clash between Senator McKellar, Tennessee, and Senator Townsend, Michigan. Republican, over McKellar's resolution amending the senate rules to guard against excessive expenditures by senatorial candidates.

Opposing the resolution on the ground the senate rules on the subject are already adequate, Senator King, Democrat, Utah, declared.

"I am willing, for my part, to trust the people of Tennessee or any other state to be honest and fair in an election and if they are not, and there is corruption, the senate now has the power to expel a member."

POLICE ARE OILED AND READY TO GO

The Glendale police department is now on its toes and ready to go. Everything is in readiness for a grand spurge—the boys have been given the word, which may be given at any time, so the law breakers of Glendale would do well to call in their forces and leave town. A word to the wise is enough.

Here's why: The police department Ford has been thoroughly overhauled and this morning received the mechanic's final O. K.

Demands for a merger and information

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Acting promptly on the LaFollette resolution demanding an investigation of the proposed steel merger, the federal trade commission today wired to the companies involved for "full and complete information."

BURBANK FOLKS APPRECIATE GOOD MUSIC

Glendale Daily Press Radio Concert Makes Hit
in Sister City

The 200 men and boys who sat down to the big father-and-son banquet at Burbank this week knew good music, and appreciated a good sermon and the efforts of the Glendale Daily Press to bring it to them by means of its radio machine and experts. The following thoughtful thanks was received today from Burbank:

521 Olive Ave., Burbank, May 12, 1922.

Captain Watson, Glendale, Cal.
My Dear Friend:

In behalf of the more than 200 men and boys who sat down to the "father and son" banquet in Burbank and who had a most delightful as well as profitable time, I want to thank the Glendale Daily Press through you, and yourself, too, as the man who came to us in our time of need and splendidly let us have, not only the use of your radio set, but also the young men who came to handle it for us. We shall not soon forget your kindness.

Especially for the local Y. M. C. A. committee do I thank you, and when I think of that vast unseen audience who, through your kindness, was able to hear Dr. Francis, I can but thank you the more.

Very sincerely,
THOS. E. STEVENSON.

NATIONAL LETTER CARRIERS BRANCH HERE MEETS

New Members Initiated Into Mysteries of Association

The first meeting of the officers and members of the recently organized branch of the National Association of Letter Carriers, an adjunct of the local postoffice, was held in the K. of P. hall on Thursday evening.

All of the officers were in their stations and much routine work was transacted. A number of new members were duly elected and initiated into the mysteries of Postal fraternalism.

William "our Bill" Gamble was elected as delegate, and Al Holcomb, alternate to the state convention of letter carriers which is to be held at Eureka in the near future.

The mock trial court scene attracted much interest and amusement and demonstrated that some of the local legal lights might well look to their laurels.

The entertainment committee has promised something of special merit for every meeting. At the next regular meeting of this association, several officers of the Los Angeles Carriers' Ladies' Auxiliary will be present and assist in organizing a local branch here.

POLITICAL FOES DISMISSAL CAUSE

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—Miss Ada Wright Jones, dismissed as juvenile investigator by District Attorney Woolwine, in a statement today declared she herself was a victim of "political enemies."

She said she had sought legal aid and she had received information that an effort would be made to "ruin" her and to oust her from the office that she had held creditably for several years.

Woolwine in his note to the civil service commission announcing her dismissal had said that he had learned she had made affidavits that he had been intimate with her.

These charges, Miss Jones, a handsome brunette, would neither affirm or deny.

"Every bit of evidence I have in the hands of my lawyers," she said. "I am sure that no one could have secured letters and other evidence that I entrusted to them."

She said that she had no reason to think that Attorney Schenck and Kittrell had abandoned her case as "Mr. Woolwine seemed to think."

Clear Explanation

An automobile accident at the corner of San Fernando road and Los Feliz road late yesterday afternoon brought to light the fact that one of the machines, a Dodge, was a stolen car, having been taken from the Union Oil company of Fullerton early yesterday morning by two Spanish boys, Sanches Hernandez, 14 years old, and Rudolph Sorondo, aged 16 years. At the time of the accident young Sorondo was driving. By questioning the boys immediately after the accident the police officer stationed at the corner of San Fernando and Los Feliz learned that the machine had been stolen.

The boys were brought to the Glendale police station and Chief of Police Eells said he had a warrant for the arrest of the youngsters. At 10:30 o'clock last night Chief Eells arrived and took the boys home. This is not the first offense against the law committed by these boys. Young Sorondo having served two years at a reformatory for forging a check.

LEGION CALLS TO BUDDIES TO GET TOGETHER

Open Night Scheduled at Chamber of Commerce May 26

The American Legion of Glendale will give another of its big "open nights" at the chamber of commerce on May 26. This will be a regular, old, get-together affair, such as was held by the Legion a few weeks ago. The decision to hold this affair was reached at the regular weekly meeting of the Legion in its hall last night.

At the coming open night, all of the members will be permitted to bring their friends. There will be a lot of "real good eats," excellent speeches, toasts, and everything that goes to round out a slashing good evening.

At the Legion meeting last night Mr. Knox, president of the Knott Institute of Los Angeles, gave an enlightening talk on the operation of his school, a branch of which he intends to open in this city. About 60 members of the Legion were present. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

HIT TRUSTEES TO ATTEND CONCLAVE

Principal George U. Moyle and Capt. Thos. D. Watson, president of the high school board of trustees, Superintendent of City Schools Richardson D. White and David Black, president of the Glendale board of education, are attending the convention of school trustees which is being held today at the University of California, southern branch.

FALLS DOWN ELEVATOR

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—James Powers, an employee of the Bolster Plaster company, was instantly killed when he fell down an elevator shaft on June 8th.

FULLERTON OWNER

Spanish Boys Driving
Dodge Fail to Give
Clear Explanation

An automobile accident at the corner of San Fernando road and Los Feliz road late yesterday afternoon brought to light the fact that one of the machines, a Dodge, was a stolen car, having been taken from the Union Oil company of Fullerton early yesterday morning by two Spanish boys, Sanches Hernandez, 14 years old, and Rudolph Sorondo, aged 16 years. At the time of the accident young Sorondo was driving. By questioning the boys immediately after the accident the police officer stationed at the corner of San Fernando and Los Feliz learned that the machine had been stolen.

The boys were brought to the Glendale police station and Chief of Police Eells said he had a warrant for the arrest of the youngsters. At 10:30 o'clock last night Chief Eells arrived and took the boys home. This is not the first offense against the law committed by these boys. Young Sorondo having served two years at a reformatory for forging a check.

BLACK DIAMOND EXPRESS WRECKED

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 13.—Three persons were killed and 15 injured when the Black Diamond Express on the Lehigh Valley railroad was derailed at North Leroy, near here today.

The train, passing a west-bound passenger train, struck an automobile driven by Thomas Groeg, 70 and after carrying the machine several feet left the tracks, plunged down a steep embankment into a creek. Three coaches, crowded with foreigners, a parlor car and a diner were derailed.

The dead are: Thomas Groeg, driver of the automobile, and an unidentified man and woman believed to have been in the derailed coaches.

Conversation actually heard at a little girl's tea party.
Edburgha—"There's a new baby coming to Joan's house."
Doris—"How lovely for Joan!"
Edburgha—"Yes, it's all arranged. The person that finds the babies is there and Joan saw her looking under the bushes in the garden."
Doris—"It's high time we had a new one! Our old baby's nearly 3; he's awfully big and breaks things and won't be cuddled or dressed up."
Edburgha—"Those old, old babies are no good."

"Take two letters from 'money'
and 'one' will be left," said Jack.
"Is that a joke," sneered Pat.
"Yes," said Jack.
"Well," replied Pat, "I once knew a fellow who took 'money' from two letters and he got two years."

REBELS WRECK DUBLIN PLANT, BUT 18TH CENTURY PRESS PRINTS TABLOID PAPER

Despite the fact that Irish rebels wrecked the offices and plant of the Freeman's Journal in Dublin, doing $200,000 damage, the manage- ment succeeded in turning out a single leaflet of the paper by using a hand press of eighteenth century vintage. JOHNSTON'S VICTORY CHEERS NET FANS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—Wil- liam Johnston's defeat of "Big Bill" Tilden, tennis champion, last week on the Berkeley Tennis club courts, has cheered Pacific coast tennis fans greatly.

They are hopeful that "Our Bill" as Johnston is known on the coast, to distinguish him from "Big Bill," will win back the national singles championship, which he formerly held.

Johnston was very discouraged last year when he failed to stop the whirlwind onslaught of Tilden, and lost the championship, and declared at that time that he would not compete in the east again.

His brilliant work on the Berke- ley court, however, when he mas- tered Tilden's terrific serve, is de- clared by tennis experts who have watched Johnstons work for sev- eral years, to have been better than anything that he has ever exhibited before. He was ex- tremely brilliant in his strategy and highly accurate in his place shots. He repeatedly worked Tilden into a difficult position and then sizzled a hot one into the hole his opponent had left open.

Johnston was able, by taking care of Tilden's serving drive, to work himself to his favorite net position, keeping Tilden in the backfield. Tilden shines in the backfield, but he could not do the work there with Johnston playing the net game.

Undoubtedly one of the most brilliant matches seen on the east- ern courts for years will be the match this year for the singles championship between these two old rivals and old friends. John- ston's friends were confident that he could come back and that he was not through following his de- feat last year, and they believe that the defeat of Tilden in the East-West matches will be just the heartening and encouraging influ- ence the great Westerner needs.

A SCANDALMONGER
Mr. Pester—The Scrapleghs are going to sell all their household ef- fects at auction next week.
His Wife—I'm going around to bid on their parrot. I'd dearly love to know what they call each other in the privacy of their home.

CONSCIENCE PUT INTO "TWO PIECE"

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—"Let your conscience be your guide," is to be the rule for the bathing beauties of California this year.

The beach season got under way here with the enunciation of this bathing principle by the police departments around the bay region. Miss Angelina Vaughan, police censor at Alameda Beach, has put her official o. k. on the new suit designed by Marie Devourak, star swimmer of Neptune Beach. Miss Devourak's suit leaves nothing further to be anticipated. After her first dip in the surf, life guards declared frankly that nothing could be than which is. To cut off an- other inch would simply be to invite disaster, they declared.

The new suits of a design simi- lar to Miss Devourak's, which will be worn on California beaches this summer, are light-fitting, light, and as there is scarcely anything to hamper either the swimmer of the eyesight, perfect freedom of play is left for swimming. Last year's modest one-piece suits appear cumbersome in com- parison to the present models. Stockings, of course, went out years ago. Even the shock-absorbers have been omitted on the new 1922 model.

There is only one restriction placed on the suits by the beach police. They must be used for swimming and not for promenad- ing. Beach beauties must stay off the boardwalk unless they wish to bring along a fancy and more ex- tensive suit for strolling.

In view of the new styles, the annual bathing girl parades of the Southern California beaches, sched- uled for a few weeks hence, are being awaited with apprehension mingled with intense interest.

CUTTING HER OFF SHORT
Gaysport—The later I stay out nights the less my wife says about it.
Rounder—That's fine. She must be very good natured.
Gaysport—She's not, but the later I come home the less time she has to talk about it.

Every woman has a certain look with which she thinks she can squelch a man.

Your Child's Chance

By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE
Author of "The Riddle of Personality," "Self-Development," Etc.
(Copyright, 1922, by The Associated Newspapers.)
You are desirous of seeing your little boy develop into an all-round successful man. You promise yourself that you will give him a real chance to do this—in especial through the advantage of a thorough education, no matter at what sacrifice on your part.
In imagination you already see your boy in school, acquiring him- self well. You foretravel with him from school to college, where again he has a creditable career. And your fancy leaps on from college to the life of the business world, in which he not only prospers materially, but gains the respect and admiration of his fellow men.
A pleasing prospect, surely, on which you fondly dwell. But, let me remind you, it will not do to assume that your dream is certain to become a reality by merely securing for your boy the advantages which certainly should accrue to him from school and college training.
Much will depend—everything will depend—on what you do for him before ever he goes to school and during the first years of his schooling. To omit doing certain things is really to deprive him of the chance school and college would otherwise be for him.
Suppose, for instance, that through over-fondness you neglect to rear your boy hygienically, giving him his own way in such matters as food preferences, the time of going to bed, etc. Suppose you fail to surround him with an environment truly stimulating to his mind, the environment of a home in which there are good books and in which the family conversation is not concerned merely with trivialities.
Suppose, also, that your great love for your boy misleads you into requiring from him nothing in the way of effort and self-denial—mis- leads you even into doing his thinking for him. And suppose that, into the bargain, you lavish presents on him and take a particular pride in providing for him clothing and amusements that are perhaps a good deal more expensive than you can afford.
Suppose you do all this, do you think it will be without effect on his after life? It may have such a serious effect as hopelessly to handicap your boy in school, college and business, frustrating all your ambitions for him.
You know perfectly well that not every boy who goes to school and college shines as a student. You know that a good many are not only dull but difficult to handle, being deficient in self-control as well as in ability to study. Do you take it for granted that they must have been born that way?
Some may have been. But the great majority owe their deficien- cies to things that happened to them after they were born and before they went to school. In particular they owe their deficiencies to mis- takes of upbringing such as those hinted at above.
The mistakes resulted in giving the unfortunate boys faulty stand- ards of value and bad habits of thinking and behaving. They weak- ened their minds and their characters alike. So that now school can do comparatively little for the boys, and serious trouble pretty surely awaits them when they pass from school to the world.
Don't let this befall your boy.
Start him right. Turn his thoughts, even as a child, to worth-while things. Adjust his surroundings to the real needs of a mind that is in the making. Don't give him an environment and a rearing that deaden and distort his mentality—as so many parents unwittingly give their children.
Then you will escape the later sorrow imposed always on those other parents, and your boy, unlike their children, will indeed be get- ting a real chance to succeed.

THE WALK AND THE WORD AT THE CONFERENCE

Victorious Life Meeting Hears Doctor Ramsey

Yesterday afternoon at the Victorious Life conference at the Presbyterian church, Dr. Ramsey gave a great exposition upon "The Walk and the Word." The Christian, on this side of the Great Divide, changed within, is to live a worthy and fruitful life that shall reveal Christ, his head, to the world.

A gospel solo was given by Mrs. Gibbons.

Mr. McQuilkin spoke upon the relation between perfect victory in the present moment and what there is still ahead. God has a perfect will for us right now, but He has also a future purpose beyond this of great growth and service, and growth may stop only on reaching the end of God.

Dr. Ramsey spoke in the evening upon "Flesh and Spirit,"—what the scriptures mean by these terms. "Flesh" commonly stands for the natural man as alienated from God. But you have been redeemed from that alienation. After the soul is saved, the true way to live is having Christ in full control of the life. "Now, don't walk after you are saved the way you did before you were saved; don't wear those old clothes."

To Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts is due the addition of special music which has enriched all the sessions of the conference and her own singing, as well as that of other soloists, has been greatly valued and appreciated.

Tonight Mr. McQuilkin speaks upon his experiences in Central America.

RUSSIAN PRESS IS FREED BY THE SOVIET

MOSCOW, (By Mail to the United Press)—The first step towards restoring freedom of the press has been made in Russia. It is only a first step of course, and falls a long, long way from real sense, but it is nevertheless a step.

Although opposition newspapers are still prohibited, the existing Communists and official trade union organs are now permitted openly to voice opposition to the administration's policies.

Two of the trade union organs, the Economic Life and the Socialist Labor, are taking active advantage of this privilege and even the Pravda, official organ of the Communist party, has taken a pot shot or two at the Kremlin. The Izvestia, the official organ of the government, of course still religiously supports and defends every official move.

The Economic Life has been carrying on what seems to be a consistent campaign of opposition to certain of the government's methods under the new economic policy. The editorials read much like the normal criticisms of the administration in an average opposition paper in the United States. The writer often handled the subject with no gentle hand. The Socialist Labor also occasionally takes a slash at the Kremlin.

In the recent intra-party quarrel between the Radical Left Communists, lead by Schlapnikoff, and the Executive Committee of the Third Internationale, the Radicals were permitted to ventilate their case thoroughly in all the newspapers. While condemning the Radicals in their editorial columns, the newspapers published lengthy articles from the Left in their news columns, even the Izvestia turning over its entire front page to protagonists of both sides.

This initial loosening of gag has been noticeable only for about four weeks. A month ago, when it came to Russia, a secretary in the foreign office insisted that even then the official newspapers sometimes criticized the government. What he meant by "criticized" I do not know. But I do know that I watched all the editions daily for five months without finding anything which an American reader would consider a criticism, and certainly nothing anyone could possibly call opposition.

These last four weeks, however, a distinct change was apparent in the Economic Life and a regular, persistent form of open opposition manifested itself. This opposition did not take the shape of antagonism to the Kremlin as an administration but of continued hostility to certain governmental policies or governmental departments. The Pravda recently criticized the government's present tactics of going into business and trade inside Russia and urged limitation of governmental economic activities to controlling and directing the distribution of a few basic, necessary commodities.

"Good afternoon, Mrs. Brown," exclaimed Mr. Smith. "What a coincidence, meeting you. I ran into your husband half an hour ago."

"How funny!" replied Mrs. Brown. "And how did you think he was looking?"

"Pretty poorly."

"Well, I'm surprised to hear you say so. Everybody says he's looking much better lately."

"Well, he looked seedy enough just now," said Mr. Smith.

"I wonder why it was," said Mrs. Brown.

"Oh, I can tell you that," said Mr. Smith. "When I was in his car when I ran into him."

NEW HIGH CLASS RESIDENTS ARE BUILDING ON IVANHOE HILLS

Home of B. C. Laten, retired capitalist, 2965 Waverly Avenue, in Hills of Ivanhoe

Ten high-class residences, each built after separate plans carefully drawn, will be constructed immediately along Glendale boulevard, in Ivanhoe Hills, by A. G. Smith, a Glendale contractor, it was announced yesterday.

These homes will be built on homesteads purchased by Mr. Smith from the Ivanhoe Realty Co., and he has authorized the latter concern to resell them on small monthly payments, with a small initial installment to begin with.

The homes, it is announced, will be in harmony with those graceful residences which already have marked the Hills of Ivanhoe as a high-class residential tract. Facing north on Glendale boulevard, they will be approximately a block away from Waverly drive and its string of hilltop residences.

Most of the residences on Waverly drive have been constructed within the last two years. All of them were built in advance of electricity and gas, their owners enduring the inconvenience in order to enjoy the scenic grandeur of the location. From Ivanhoe Hills, looking northward, one catches a thrilling panorama of the Sierra Madre and snow-capped Baldy. At their feet nestles Glendale and the San Fernando valley.

Arrangements for the paving of Childs avenue, Hyperion avenue and Rowena avenue are progressing, it is reported by city engineers. This work centers around that unit of Ivanhoe Hills now being placed on the market.

GREEK THEATRE

Miss Katherine Everts of New York will be the principal speaker at the forthcoming conference of the Drama Association, according to the announcement issued today by Miss Doris McIntyre, president of the association. The conference has been called by A. C. Olney, commissioner of schools, to meet with Samuel J. Hum, director of the Greek theatre of the University of California on May 18, 19 and 20.

A large attendance of teachers of English and dramatic art is expected, according to Miss McIntyre, who said further, "Miss Everts is one of the foremost dramatic readers in the United States, and her presence at the conference is an event of great importance to the teachers of dramatic art in the high schools of the state. For several years Miss Everts has been connected with the University of California where her work won her recognition all over the country. She is a graduate of the Cumstock School of Oratory at Northwestern University, the first school in the country to give university credit for dramatic work. Miss Everts' training and experience will make her talk of great practical value to members of the organization. The Drama Association of California is composed of teachers of English and dramatic art in the high schools of the state. It aims to be of service in the promotion of community drama and to raise the standards of high school dramatic work. Although organized only a year it already has 200 members scattered through the state, and has important work to its credit. It has gone on record for special certification of the teachers of drama in the high schools. It has organized an exchange for information about plays and production problems. It has districted the state and appoints a councillor in each district to hold conferences on problems connected with community drama. An advisory council has been appointed consisting of Irving Pichel of the Greek theatre; Mrs. Warren Cheney of the University of California; Gilmer Brown of the Pasadena Community theatre; and Gordon Davis of Stanford University. The fall program will be announced later."

The clanking of the big clock on the English House of Parliament remains a story teller of his grandfather's clock, which is treasured very highly in his Gloucestershire family. ## BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK BUILDING BURBANK BANK TO BE MADE ENTERTAIN AT HOME AT VICTORY SHOW

A. R. Graham Is a True Booster for His Home Town

A. R. Graham is a true booster for Burbank. He not only talks about Burbank, but acts for it. In the erection of his fine new building which will join the State Bank of Burbank, he has awarded all the work to Burbank contractors. The general contract was let to Omer Nelson and H. G. Williams, general carpenters. The foundation and flat cement work contract went to Cecil Lockwood. J. Blake-man will do the plastering, and the Burbank Planning Mill will furnish the mill work and the plate-glass front. Kendig Bros. will do the electrical work. The contracts for hardware and paint have not been let.

The foundation was put in some time ago and allowed to harden until the first of the week, when the brick work was started, and, without unforeseen delays, the building will be completed about the middle of July, for it is Mr. Graham's intention to push the operations as fast as possible.

It will be an attractive building, being of light tan colored brick with ivory and terra cotta trimmings. The entire second floor, to be used as a first-class hotel, has been leased by Mrs. Lydia M. Darns. The stairway to the hotel will lead up from a large, beautifully finished vestibule off the street. The west room of the ground floor will be occupied by the original stage line as a ticket office and waiting room. Next to this will be Mr. Graham's real estate office and on the east of that, next to the bank, will be a large store which is not yet leased.

HOLDERS OF TIRE STOCK GET NEWS

Good news at last awaits the stockholders of the U. S. Compression Inner Tube company, and not alone the stockholders but all of Burbank.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders held last Monday in Tulsa, a new board of directors was elected and R. O. Church was one of them. This fact means much to the company and every one interested directly or indirectly. In addition to the election of Mr. Church, F. E. Collins of Long Beach, a heavy stockholder and one who has worked hard for the reorganization and rehabilitation of the company, was elected a director. It was quite largely through his untiring efforts that the reorganization was made. He secured a great many proxies here in Burbank and also in Kittingham, Pa., and through them was able to accomplish a result which it is believed will terminate in a great improvement in management and the opening of the building which has stood unoccupied and guttless of a turning wheel.

C. F. Greenman was the first one to receive the good news. Mr. Collins wiring her immediately after the election. Some of the plans for the future were outlined at a meeting of stockholders held at her home last week. In addition to the new board of directors which has been elected, it is the plan to appoint a governing board of three members, one representing Burbank, another Tulsa and the third Kittingham, whose duties shall be the detailed management of these three plants. It is believed that in this way the progress of the future work will be better adjusted. Mr. Collins went to Tulsa, accompanied by Judge Thomas of Los Angeles. In the event the Inner Tube company is able to establish producing conditions here, it will mean a great deal to this city. There are about 100 stockholders here who have $70,000 invested and it will be a vast relief to them and will aid in restoring confidence.

Farmers and Merchants to Give Regular Concert at Theatre

Saturday afternoon the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank is going to entertain Burbank and the community at a complimentary entertainment at the Victory theatre, and passes for this event may be obtained at the bank.

Elmer Hornby Woodford, the well-known voice artist will sing also C. H. Russell and Miss Christine Krum will entertain with vocal music. An orchestra which is being made up for the occasion will give several numbers and interesting reels will be shown. The feature reel will be Wesley Barry in "School Days."

The bank hopes that many people will take advantage of this invitation which it is extending to the public and fill the theatre to capacity. The program will be very enjoyable.

AGED MISSOURIAN PASSES AT BURBANK

After only nine weeks of separation, W. D. Wheelchel joined his wife in the Great Beyond, death occurring at 7:30 Tuesday morning at the home, 618 Verdugo avenue. Since the death of his wife Mr. Wheelchel has been in broken health and an attack of influenza and pneumonia further reduced his strength, and he was unable to survive the inroads of disease. Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Wheelchel, but only three survive, Mrs. T. B. Sander-son, W. W. and James Wheelchel, all of Burbank.

The deceased was born in Missouri in 1845 and was 77 years of age. While residing in Montgomery county, Kan., he was married to Mrs. Wheelchel. For the past 12 years they had lived in California, most of the time in Santa Monica, coming here to Burbank only three weeks previous to Mrs. Wheelchel's death. Mr. Wheelchel was a man of the finest character. His standards of honor and truth were the highest, and to smallest details he lived up to them, as is earnestly testified by those friends who knew him through many years. At his bedside was one of these friends, O. R. Gillespie of Monrovia, and James of Los Angeles, were also with him during his last days.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon, 1 o'clock, at the Fillbach chapel. Rev. Allen and Rev. Parker officiated, as they did at Mrs. Wheelchel's funeral. Also the same songs, "Nearer My God to Thee," and "Will There Be Any Stars in My Crown," were sung by Mrs. R. A. Powell. The interment was made in the Santa Monica cemetery.

TOO BAD!

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—Staying up late with his sweetheart cost E. J. Major dearly.

Leaving her apartment early today he looked into the guns of two bandits who relieved him of $165 in cash, a $1500 diamond ring and a valuable watch. After this Major is going to go home before midnight, he told the police.

"That's what I call downright humiliating," said Mrs. Biggins. "What has happened?" inquired her husband.

"The people next door are going to have company, so they sent in to borrow our drawing room rug. I let them have it. In a little while they came back and said they didn't think it was handsome enough to go with their furniture, and could I lend them the money to buy a new one."

It never kills a law to execute it.

A. A. U. METHODS ARE CRITICISED BY ATHLETES

Show Down to Come in 1924 Olympic Games It Is Said

NEW YORK, May 13.—A political expert once said that more reforms would be brought about through the fear of Socialism than the socialists could accomplish at the wheel of government.

So it may be in the row between the A. A. U. and the newly organized National Sport Federation, consisting of several collegiate organizations, the Y. M. C. A. and the Boy Scouts.

The new body may never supplant the A. A. U. as the governing body of amateur sport, but it may force the A. A. U. to institute the reforms and control the sport along the same line that the new body favors.

If the federation succeeds in convincing the country that the present supervisors of amateur sports are not doing it properly, the A. A. U. will have to work along new lines or surrender its leadership.

The show-down will come in 1924 when America gets ready to go to Paris for the Olympic games. The manner in which the A. A. U. handled the 1920 team in Antwerp caused the agitation for reforms and if the methods of selecting the 1924 team is not changed and if the comfort of the athletes, there may be two American teams competing in France.

Inasmuch as there have been no big scandals in amateur sports and since interest in those sports has steadily increased, perhaps the A. A. U. should not be too severely criticized, but there is no doubt that it could get rid of a lot of its management.

Regardless of the fact that the American team won the 1920 Olympic championship, politics kept the United States team from representing the real strength of the nation. Petty politics kept several star athletes in America, who should have made the team, and it kept able athletes on the sidelines in Antwerp to watch less able members of the team compete. The greatest fault with the 1920 team was the lack of business brains at the head of the team. Had it not been for Commander Mayo, who stepped in when the "officials" of the team were seeing the sights, the Americans might have lived on sardines all during the games.

The miserable accommodations the athletes had on the way over and the poor quarters they had in Antwerp were brought about by the lack to hustle and business sagacity in the management of the team.

The A. A. U. has been attacked for allowing some of the athletes to go on the track drunk in Antwerp. Facts will not back up such a charge. No one in Antwerp saw a drunken American on the track and certainly such charges should not be made by those who "saw" the games in the newspapers and films.

Experienced men are needed to take a team through the Olympic games and the A. A. U. has men who have been through it three times and know the ropes. If they were given a free hand and if they would forget politics, they could do the work.

Regardless of who runs the 1924 team, there are bound to be better conditions or the government will not furnish the transportation and the athletes will not go.

PIONEER WOMAN OF BURBANK PASSES

Mrs. Lovina Elizabeth Beeson died Tuesday at her home on Olive avenue about three miles out of the city after a short final illness although she had been in poor health for over a year, but less than a week before her death she went to Hollywood. Her disease was the cause of her demise. She was well known in this section and among the congregation of the Methodist church where she was a worker during most of her residence near Burbank, which has been the past 19 years.

The deceased was born 72 years ago in Lee county, Iowa, in which state she began teaching school when but 15 years of age. It was here that she met and married William M. Beeson, who survives her. They lived in Kansas for a few years, later coming to California and at once locating on the place which is still the home. Five children were born but only one survives, Miss Theso Beeson. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Fillbach undertaking parlor with Rev. Allen of the Methodist church officiating. The interment will be made in Grand View cemetery.

The late scholar was sentenced to be caned.

"Taint fair," he whimpered. "Besides, canin' won't never do me no good!"

"Possibly not," replied the master, "but to refrain from canin' you will certainly do you harm. You'll know that Solomon, the wisest man who ever lived, said 'Spare the rod and spoil the child!'"

"Yes," objected the lad; "but Solomon took mighty good care not to say that till he was growed up."

SINGLE TRACK AT THE GLENDALE

In "The Single Track," which will be shown at the Glendale theatre tonight, Corinne Griffith forsakes for the nonce the life of luxury and ease of a debutante or young society matron and plunges into the life of a Western settler with all its attendant frontier customs and excitement.

"Perjury," the William Fox special with William Farnum which enjoyed a sensational run in a Broadway, New York, theatre, will begin an engagement next Sunday at the Glendale theatre.

During its run on the most famous entertainment thoroughfare in the world, New York reviewers declared that no more gripping photodrama had been shown there.

The World's Greatest Need Is More

From every part of the world comes the cry—
"MORE HOMES"

Individuals should arrange for homes to be built; investors should build homes for sale and rent; everyone who can possibly do so should invest that their savings and surplus money are invested in mortgage bonds. This appalling condition may be successfully coped with. If all of the material that can be manufactured were converted into homes it would be ten years before we could hope to fulfill the demand. Our part in this home building drive is to furnish the building materials, dependable materials that each new home built will be modern, convenient, attractive and well built. You are to feel at liberty to consult with our Photographic Service at your convenience.

after his return, he had considerable fun with the climate of this state. San Francisco he found very cold and windy, Los Angeles foggy and cold, San Diego, very cold. Over in "Sacramento" valley "where they raise those famous cantaloupes," he saw a man at a chicken farm breaking ice. The tourist was told that the ice was to be fed to the hens to prevent them from laying hard-boiled eggs. But he admitted the traffic laws in vogue out here, and thought they ought to be applied in Youngstown.
The fact that he believed the laws were being enforced proves that his observation was superficial.
Perhaps it was the sort of talk that has made him mayor.

However, Oles is recalled to mind by a recent paper from Youngstown containing pictures taken April 21 of the present year, right under his administration. These pictures show a municipal park, doubtless a pleasing spot at some season. April 21 snow filled the air. It lay on the ground in great drifts. It burdened the branches of trees until they drooped apparently near the breaking point. Now let Oles get up a new advertisement of his market, and mention that climatic anti-climax.

The past winter was not up to the usual California mark. Measured by Ohio standards, by Youngstown standards, with Oles running things, it would seem to have been flawless, a thing of beauty and joy.

THE MOONEY CASE

Thomas J. Mooney has ceased his legal struggle for freedom. He relies now on the pardoning power of the executive. Mooney is serving a life sentence for murder caused by the explosion of a bomb at San Francisco on preparedness day, as civic bodies were parading to attest their sentiments. No murder more deliberate ever was planned, nor no murder more brutally causeless ever perpetrated. Mooney was arrested and found guilty.

Grave questions have arisen as to the integrity of the testimony against him. It is an admitted fact that perjured testimony was given by witnesses for the state. To offset this is cited the allegation that with the perjured testimony eliminated, there still remained enough to convict. Reporters who were at every session of the trial affirmed that the case that they did not know whether Mooney was guilty or not. They had doubts. Similar doubts seemed not to be entertained by the jury.

Mooney's record was hurtful to him. He was affiliated with the cause of labor, not that he labored, but that he was an agitator. He enjoyed breathing threats of dynamite. This created a prejudice that could not have been without effect. It must have impaired somewhat the statutory presumption of innocence. An earnest effort has been made by friends of Mooney to have the whole matter considered as a labor question. It is not a labor question. The attitude of the prisoner towards organized labor is not under consideration.

The sole issue is as to whether Mooney was responsible for the explosion that caused the fatalities.
If the governor is able to decide this convincingly, he will do more than the courts have accomplished.

Prisoners in the Chicago jail recently had to be clubbed into submission when they undertook to burn the structure, and failing in this, destroyed the contents to the extent of their ability. Such episodes recall the efforts of reformers to abolish prisons, and give rise to speculation as to how the public then would be protected.

CAPITAL AND CONFIDENCE

Commendatore Giannini, a prominent member of the Italian delegation at the Genoa conference, diagnosed the world's sickness shrewdly the other day.

The trouble, he said, "has in its depths a grave origin—lack of confidence."

"What does this lack of trust mean? There is available capital in the great financial markets of New York and London, but it does not reach those markets where capital is necessary for the resumption of production."

There is a political risk in lending to certain European countries, and this political risk is one of the most important elements when a loan is granted.
The search for the means to re-establish confidence constitutes the first part of any program for the reconstruction of Europe, and unfortunately that question is mainly political."

This strikes the nail on the head. It calls attention to a truth which in the minds of many people is obscured. That truth is that the basis of business prosperity is confidence.

Truth is not something to be used only by church congregations on Sunday. It is not something to be wrapped up in cotton and kept under the altar.
It is not merely an attitude of mind to be directed toward certain ancient formulas or certain incomprehensible mysteries.

Faith is an absolutely essential and practical thing. The bigger your business the more you need it.

Faith has been defined as "the evidence of things not seen." That means that in order to have faith one must have vision.

A most important officer in every big business concern is the credit man. He is nothing more nor less than a faith expert. He is paid a big salary because of his ability to tell his house whom to trust.

The curse of the world at present and the distinct cause of its disorder is the slump in faith. Nations suspect each other. Every country persists in trusting to the old fallacy of force.

"He that believeth not shall be damned." That is not merely a theological proposition. It is quite as much a commercial and political one; for the merchant and the statesman who has not vision and judgment enough to know whom to trust and to know when to trust is smitten with weakness and with pettiness.

You may be able to sell peanuts on the corner or peddle shoe laces from a pushcart and trust nobody. But the man who builds up a big business has to be a man of mighty faith.

And in the government of nations faith is even more necessary. The trouble is that it takes vision, and vision is scarce. And "where there is no vision the people perish."

THE LISTENING POST

The young man with big ideas observed that if he had a hundred thousand dollars he would make the world sit up and take notice.
With a great plan he had in mind.
But he needed a lot of money to carry it on.

It was a plan that would return great profits.
Make him and others very rich.
He had the outline of it in his mind.
But he needed a hundred thousand.
And he confided it to a very practical friend.

And the very practical friend asked him how much money he had.
And the young man said he had less than a thousand dollars.

And the practical friend asked what the young man was doing with that.
And the young man said nothing at all.

That is, he said he was not doing anything at all with it.
And the practical friend said:
"If you are doing nothing at all with what you have what assurance is there that you would do anything more with what you wish you had?"

And he advised the young man to make use of what he had.
As an earnest of what he might do if he had the hundred thousand.
And the young man went off and thought:
"I know what I would do with what I wish I had."

But what am I doing with what I have?"
And another young man lamented his limited opportunity.

SONGS OF THE POETS

In a Rose Garden—John Bennett (1865.)

A hundred years from now, dear heart,
We shall not care at all.
It will not matter then a whit,
The honey or the gall.
The summer days that we have known
Will all forgotten be and flown;
The garden will be overgrown
Where now the roses fall.

A hundred years from now, dear heart,
We shall not mind the pain;
The throbbing crimson tide of life
Will not have left a stain.
The song we sing together, dear,
The dream we dream together here,
Will mean no more than means a tear
Amid a summer rain.

A hundred years from now, dear heart,
The grief will all be o'er;
The sea of care will surge in vain
Upon a careless shore.
These glasses we turn down today
Here at the parting of the way—
We shall be wineless then as they,
And shall not mind it more.

A hundred years from now, dear heart,
We'll neither know or care
What came of all life's bitterness,
Or followed love's despair.
Then fill the glasses up again,
And kiss me through the rose-leaf rain;
We'll build one castle more in Spain,
And dream one more dream there.

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

Anyhow, Mexico is being recognized right along by a string of yellow papers.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

DIRECT PRIMARY

[Fall River News]

There is a widespread discontent with the direct primary. No matter how good it is in theory, it does not work out well in practice. We hear much talk about abandoning the system in nominating candidates for office. In Maine both parties are urging its abandonment. In time of stress, a republican form of government needs men of brains, courage, integrity and far-sightedness. In the congress and in the several legislatures such men are needed.
Mediocre men will not do. We doubt if the influence of an ordinary voter upon the result in making nominations is any greater in the direct primary than it was formerly in the nominating convention.

At all events the influence of leading members of the parties was greater then, and it tended to the selection of better men. At all events the direct primary entails large cost upon the cities and towns, which is not to be justified unless it results in placing better men before the voters as candidates for office. It has come about that only men of considerable means can think of placing themselves before the voters of a congressional district or of a com-

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA STEWART

There are so many poor overworked excuses wandering about. It's a wonder that some of them are not entirely dead from over-exercion.

Their variety is legion. They are as ingenious and as plausible as their deceivers can make them.
"My poor health" is one of the favorites. When the effort requested is one that for any reason fails to appeal to us, how we can flaunt it! "You know, I just can't stand anything nowadays! The least little effort sets my heart to fluttering (tremulous stop here, please), and the doctor says I ought not to do one extra thing."

And just as you get to feeling that the poor lady is tottering on the brink of the grave and look for the latest styles in mourning, lo, she jumps into her motor car and drives across the continent, or joins an extra bridge club or two.

"Home cares" is another. Far be it from any one to decry them. But when they so patiently obtrude themselves only at certain times and stay so obediently in the extreme background at others, what is a poor mortal to think?

"The children" is a third. Oh, how they are brought to the front! The modern madonna stop is overworked at times, and neglected at others!

"My husband"—how much is laid to his innocent head sometimes! How surprised he would be could he know how ogreish he was made to appear to protect his spouse from exertion she did not desire!

All these and more. No, there's no reason under the sun why we should do that which we do not want to do—unless we serve duty, and at times that does not enter into the question. The point is here:
Why not be consistent?

monwealth as candidates for party nomination.
When such men as Senator Moses and President Hopkins of Dartmouth college condemn a system of political action it is time for voters to weigh what they say in derogation of it. It is time for the best men of the parties to see if they can devise a better system.

WILSONISM THIS YEAR

[Washington Star]

How strong is Wilsonism in Missouri? The question is of interest, and is interesting politicians, outside the contest in this state for the democratic nomination for United States senator.

Like this: If Mr. Reed is defeated, the Wilson influence will receive the credit, and the Wilsonians in other states become perky and confident. The argument will be that Wilsonism is coming back, and the effort will be to spread it as far as possible for effect in 1924—to bring it possible the democracy in every state under Wilsonian management.

If Mr. Reed wins, the argument will be that Wilsonism cannot "make the raffle," and a check generally to Wilsonian activity and propaganda will follow. Anti-Wilson democrats everywhere will draw longer and freer breaths.

ONE HAPPY PESSIMIST

Frank H. Simonds is back in Washington. We have his own word for it that he spent the most delightful time imaginable in Paris: "I did not in six weeks in the French capital have a single hopeful word."

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

Chicago seems to be having a tougher time than any other city in dealing with the criminal element. Thugs recently started a reign of terror there. The initial episode was brief but exciting, its principal feature being the murder of two policemen.

Chief Fitzmorris said: "The murder of the two officers was the direct result of the tactics of Murphy, Shea, and other ex-convicts and hoodlums who have been going about posing as labor leaders.
They no more represent honest labor than did the anarchists who were killed during the Haymarket riots."

Probably the chief had in mind the anarchists who were hanged after the riots. However, "he said a mouthful."

That a city gets the sort of government it deserves is notoriously true in relation to Chicago.
Truth is ever the truth, but sometimes circumstances lend it emphasis. Chicago has permitted itself to be ruled by criminals.

Recently one of its bad men, a killer and proud of it, was about to be hanged. What! hang one of de gang? Not to be thought of. So other criminals opened the prison doors, and the condemned man's reprieve has been good to this day.

The Murphy mentioned was the instigator of a mail robbery in which much booty was taken. His guilt was so clear that the court could not avoid giving him a sentence. It was for six years. Murphy of course was turned loose on bail, and nobody expected he would suffer additional inconvenience.

Doubtless the people of Chicago, taken in mass, are as good as any, but they are indifferent. They are accustomed to being ruled by crooks. They will not take the trouble to overthrow the oligarchy of crime. One may be sorry for them, but it is impossible to help them who make no effort to help themselves.

Some fears are expressed lest the army contract scandals hurt the administration.

They might do so were suspicion to arise that an effort was being made to keep the facts from the public.

The two republics, the United States and France, are accused by a bolshevist editor of "preventing the Russian people from establishing their own government in place of the czar's government."

And does Brisbane think to put such piffle across? Doubtless there are Russians who are desirous of forming a government.
Doubtless were they able to make a showing of their purpose they would have the full moral support of both the republics mentioned.
A nation prefers to have a nation with which to deal. It has no wish to deal with a sinister and untrustworthy type of communism.

Communism in the place where it has achieved ruleless expression has made known its enmity to all that civilization esteems. It also has brought about a failure so ghastly that the account of it stands forth as one of the most tragic pages in recorded history.

Bolshevism is trying to destroy government, not to be found nor perpetuate government. It aspires to be a ruling tyranny, with all its subjects seifs.

Comparing the situation with the French revolution is a blunder of which Brisbane should not have been guilty. When anything akin to the French revolution arises in Russia, the heads of Lenin and Trotsky will be the first pair basketed to the applause of Russians made free.

Former Coloradans remember the unique personality of Dave Day. He was editor of the Solid Muldoon, a paper published at Ouray. There never has been another paper like it. Readers often felt an impulse to shoot the editor, but they had to laugh, and in the memory of the laugh, rancor died. Besides, Dave never had meant it.

Day has been dead for years, but the name is recalled because his son, also an editor, is out on bail after shooting and killing his journalistic rival.

The bones of the sire must have experienced a jar. It was not his wont to kill anybody. He merely skinned his adversaries alive, and made they enjoy it.

A dispatch tells of a bride of two months who ended a night of cabaret rivalry by jumping into the North river. Her companion was a former suitor. He had the grace to jump after her, and both were drowned.

Such a climax is distressing, but in the circumstances it easily may have been the best possible.

Jim Foley in his pleasing department remarks that no hate is to be found in nature. Doubtless another of the truths such as he is in the habit of springing.

However, nature does not get into mobs when it withholds everything that could be characterized as the expression of a yearning love. The best that could be said of nature in such humor is that it is implacable in its neutrality.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

There is a large bailiff or something in Judge Wintermeyer's court.
Probably classes as a policeman, but acts as a bailiff. He was born in Ostfriesland, and is a good husband, father and taxpayer. I know all these things because I know the man. This morning I had to visit the court for some reason or other.

"Hey, you!" said my friend who was born in Ostfriesland, "un-cross your legs."

"What do you mean?" I asked.

"Uncross 'em, that's all," said my Ostfriesland friend. "Or you'll get the bum's rush out of here when Judge Wintermeyer sees you."

Judge Wintermeyer is an excellent jurist. His standing is very high, at the bar and with laymen. He has been re-elected two or three times because he seems to be untouchable politically or financially. He renders his judgment on the law and the evidence. But he will not let visitors to his court cross their legs. They are not permitted to cross their legs in Lorraine, where Judge Wintermeyer was born.

I discover that girls are being ejected from school because they use lip-sticks and bob their hair and wear dresses nearer the knee than do their teachers—for which a kind Providence hereby gets thanked—and for whistling on the streets and various other little peccadilloes that give chills and fevers to their scholastic superiors. Where and how do these people get that way, anyhow?

Let me confess that I am a rank, rotten, time-serving coward, or I would say to Judge Wintermeyer's bailiff:

"Looka here, Ostfriesland, I'm an American. This is my country. This is my court. I show this court the respect that is its due when I take off my hat and move quietly and speak in whispers. The court's authority doesn't extend to the crossing of my knees, and if you think it does, lay hold of my right shoulder."

But I'm a coward and so I uncrossed.

MISS MILLER TAKES J. O. C. CLASS CONGREGATIONISTS LEAVE OF PRESS OFFICE STAFF DRAWS BIG AUDIENCE TAKE LEAVE OF OLD HOME

Associates Gather to Present Her With Token of Regard

Entertainment at First Methodist Church Succeeds

Every Seat at Last Supper Taken; Many Turned Away

The members of the staff of the Glendale Daily Press entertained Friday night with a farewell party in honor of Miss Helen Miller of 205 West Maple avenue, who leaves the early part of June for the east. The affair was given at the home of Miss Ruth Ryan, 332 West Acacia avenue.

The evening, for the most part, was devoted to "bunko," first prize being awarded Robert J. Corrigan, who later presented it to Miss Miller. Consolation prize went to Miss Miller also. During the evening dancing was enjoyed and dainty refreshments were served.

The surprise of the evening came when little "Buddy" McCord presented Miss Miller with a large package. Upon opening it the honoree found a beautiful week-end box of black leather, a gift to her from her many friends at the office.

Miss Miller came to Glendale last November from Orange and has not only endeared herself to her fellow employees but to the patrons of the Press, with whom she has come in contact as head of the classified advertising department. She is leaving the early part of June to spend the summer in various cities of the east and will visit Norfolk, Neb.; Port Dodge, Ia.; Des Moines, Ia.; Chicago and several places in South Dakota. She is undecided whether to return to California in the fall or not.

Those who enjoyed this pleasant evening included the honoree, Miss Helen Miller, Miss Gertrude Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff E. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Thomas and daughter Margaret, Mrs. Victor W. McCord and son "Buddy," Miss Ruth Spafford, Albert Marple, H. Rowsey, Robert J. Corrigan, W. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ryan and Miss Ruth Ryan.

MRS. JAMES HORNE

PLEASANTLY SURPRISED

Mrs. James Horne of 1445 Valley road was pleasantly surprised Friday evening when a number of her friends gave a charming party in honor of her birthday.

The affair was given at the center garden in Los Angeles and Mrs. Horne expected to take dinner there with her husband, but upon entering, found a beautiful home surrounded by many of her friends.

All decorations were carried out in pastel shades and the centerpiece was a large bouquet of flowers in the same colors. Tiny pastel plates marked covers for 25. At the end of the large table were gifts and Mrs. Horne was very surprised.

The evening was interspersed with cabaret entertainment and dancing was enjoyed. Covers were laid for the honoree and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Horne, Mrs. J. Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Piazza, Mr. and Mrs. George Hollister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carrere, Mrs. William P. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. T. Dobson, Mrs. Howes, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Stevens, Arthur Hull, Mr. and Mrs. Ober and Mrs. Louise Dunlap.

ATTEND J. O. C. MEETING

AT EL SERANO TUESDAY

Mrs. Martha Warren and Mrs. C. M. Crist attended a J. O. C. executive meeting at El Serano on Tuesday evening. There were about 15 executives present, to which a light supper was served. The remainder of the evening was spent in making plans for the national J. O. C. convention to be held in Glendale at the First Methodist church in October. Miss McCee of Alhambra, president, presided over the meeting.

The J. O. C. idea originated in California and it is expected that a large number in this state will attend the national convention, as well as others from the East. The J. O. C. class at the First Methodist church now has 155 members. Mrs. Crist is teacher of the class.

GENTLEMEN'S NIGHT

The annual gentlemen's night was observed by the R. T. W. class of the First Methodist church Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Chase, 170 East Wilson avenue.

Little Margaret Chase entertained with two vocal numbers, after which tables were placed and progressive games enjoyed.

The home was beautifully decorated with an abundance of roses and bridal wreaths. Light refreshments were served to about 50 guests by the hostesses, Mrs. T. L. Hatch, Mrs. J. R. Bentley, Mrs. Park Arnold, Mrs. Robert Morrow and Mrs. Harry Chase.

Everyone left declaring it a very enjoyable evening.

THE MADAMS ENTERTAIN

IN HONOR OF THE SMITHS

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McAdams of 123 South Belmont street entertained with a dinner Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Doris Smith of 118 East Chestnut street. Mrs. McAdams and Mrs. Smith are sisters. The table was beautifully decorated with Cecil Brunner roses and greenery, and at each place were tiny kewpie favors.

A very pleasant evening of music and social conversation was enjoyed.

The entertainment given Friday night at the First Methodist church by the members of the J. O. C. class was a huge success in every way. A large audience turned out to witness this splendid program, which was in charge of Mrs. Rebecca, president of the class. Mrs. C. M. Crist, teacher of the class and the other officers. Mrs. W. Q. Widows led the chorus.

During the evening numbers were furnished by the Sunday school orchestra of which Mr. Aston is the leader. The program included numbers as follows:

Chorus—J. O. C. Choral.

Solo—Mrs. McKee.

Chorus—"Orchard Cradle Song," and "The Barefoot Trail"—Choral.

Reading—Mrs. Lee Dayton.

Violin solo—Miss Lois Murphy.

Chorus—"Praise Ye the Father,"

J. O. C. Choral.

Solo—Mrs. DeCant.

Chorus—"Springtime"—J. O. C. Choral.

Playlet—"How the Story Grew."

Cast—"Mrs. Brown" played by Mrs. Charlotte Goss; "Mrs. O'Leary,"

Mrs. Lela Buckman; "Mrs. Bean,"

Mrs. Martha Clint; "Mrs. Rice,"

Mrs. Stella Miller; "Mrs. Doolittle,"

Mrs. Nellie Whitney; "Mrs. Snow,"

Mrs. Kate Stahl; "Mrs. Taylor,"

Mrs. Leona Jones; "Mrs. White,"

Mrs. May Knox.

Each member of the cast was dressed in real old fashioned country women's garb and the story grew as gray until it actually became a tragedy. In other words, it was a very "gossipy" play and very good.

The class has been asked to repeat this splendid program, which they may do in the near future.

They also had a fancy work and candy booth from which was realized about $40. The exact amount received from the program is not yet known.

COMMENCEMENT AT

T. D. & L. THEATRE

The commencement exercises of the Glendale grammar schools are to be held June 15 in the T. D. & L. theatre, Mr. Allan having generously offered the use of the auditorium for the purpose.

The program this year will include a speaker, Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools.

REV. RIDER STARTS

FOR DES MOINES, IA.

Rev. O. P. Rider of 208 East Acacia avenue starts Monday for Des Moines, Iowa, to attend the Presbyterian general assembly. From there he will go to New York state to visit relatives in Batavia, Syracuse and Oswego. He goes to Ithaca in June to attend the commencement exercises of Cornell university and the reunion of his class, which was that of 1886. Then he will take a special theology course in Auburn theological seminary.

Rev. Rider has been engaged to supply the pulpit at the Batavia Presbyterian church on July 30th, and expects to return to Glendale some time in the fall.

MRS. HARWOOD GETS

A SURPRISE PARTY

Mrs. A. E. Harwood of 121 North Louise street was delightfully surprised by her parents and other members of her family Friday night in celebration of her birthday. They appeared shortly after the dinner hour with birthday remembrances and refreshments of ice cream and a triple-decked birthday cake topped with (?) candles, and a very pleasant social and musical evening was enjoyed, the party including Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Nicholson, their son, Eugene, and daughter Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huff and son, Wright Huff, Miss Irene Wright, and the surprised hostess and host.

The family were discussing what kind of dresses they would wear at a fancy-dress ball to which they were going.

Audrey made the suggestion that they should all wear dresses to match the color of their hair.

"In that case," she declared, "I should wear an auburn-colored dress; Cynthia would have to wear a golden dress; umm, what color can you wear, because your hair is blonde."

"I shan't be allowed to go at all if you make that stipulation," interrupted father hurriedly.

MITE BOXES SHOW BIG RETURNS WHEN OPENED

1st Methodist Missionary Society Receives Its Donations

The parlors of the First Methodist church were the scene Friday afternoon of an annual event of exceptional interest to members of the Home Missionary society, in the opening of the mite boxes. Not all of the receptacles had been turned in, but those opened and counted indicated returns of $70 to $75.

The auxiliary secretary, Mrs. W. A. Maxwell, had charge of the program, in which nine groups were represented by musical numbers or readings.

There were two special guests. One was Miss Jennie Mathias, superintendent of the Frances DePauw school for Mexican girls in Los Angeles. As the representative of the North Louise group, she gave a fine talk on the work of the school.

The other visitor was Mrs. Mae M. Northrup, who is the Home Missionary secretary of the Southern California conference, and national field secretary. She represented the group which bears her name and which includes ladies of North Kenwood and Louise streets.

She closed the program with a fine address. Refreshments of punch and cake were then served to the 80 or more ladies in attendance.

FEDERATED UNITS OF MISSIONARY WORK TO MEET

A meeting of the Federated Missionary Societies of the Glendale district, which includes Eagle Rock, Casa Verdugo, Torrance, and Glendale, will be held Monday, May 15 at 1:30 p. m. at the First Methodist church.

At this time the annual election of officers will take place and there will be several musical numbers rendered.

Miss Lulu Graten of India, Miss Laws, native of China and Mrs. M. C. Kelley worker among the lepers will be the speakers. A large attendance is anticipated.

Purely Personal

Arthur G. Lindley of 123 South Belmont street left this morning by automobile for Garden Grove on business.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Murphy and three children of 421 North Brand boulevard leave Monday for their old home at Dighton, Kan., where they expect to spend the summer. They have lived in Glendale for 16 years. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy are parents of G. Edwin Murphy, contractor and builder of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hosley are the parents of a beautiful baby boy, born May 11 at the Research hospital. The mother, Alleen Cole Hosley, and babe are doing well, and the youngster has been named Gordon Cole Hosley.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Cole of 122 Arden avenue have gone to Fresno where they will remain over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Pilmer of Los Angeles, formerly of Des Moines, Iowa, were callers on old Des Moines friends in Glendale on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Gillies and son Launce and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Gillies of 1443 East Wilson avenue left Friday afternoon in two Buick Sixes for Vermont and East Canada. They took a complete camping outfit and expect to be gone three or four months.

Miss Stevens, hostess at the Business and Professional Women's Club became ill Thursday morning and was ordered to the Glendale Sanitarium by her physician, Dr. Laura Brown. Her case is not considered serious and she expects to be back in the club rooms Monday morning.

J. Malcomson Huddy, of Pasadena, formerly tenor at the First Baptist church of Los Angeles, has been engaged as permanent tenor by the Glendale Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Frank Arnold, well known in musical circles in Glendale, will fill the place of Mrs. Helen G. Cole as soprano in the quartet of the Glendale Presbyterian church at the special Victrola Life Conference services in this church on Sunday.

Mrs. Kate Vissman of Los Angeles will spend the week-end with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vissman of 313 West Broadway.

Normal C. Hayhurst, athletic coach at the high school accompanied by some friends, went fishing Friday morning up the Sespe river.

Norman Nelson of 213 West Elk avenue and Richard Ryan of 332 West Acacia avenue, motored to Long Beach Friday to catch grunion fish. These fish come in on one wave and remain on the sand until another wave washes them up again and one can pick them up very easily. It was announced that they would come in last night, but the boys waited until about 1:30 this morning and saw none, so decided they had better come home.

A. R. Powell, manager of the Press job department, will make his home in Glendale at 417 East Elk street. Mrs. Powell and daughter Irene arrive today from Los Angeles.

Mrs. E. Leora Foor, who came to Glendale from Terre Haute, Ind., last January, and who has been in the Glendale sanitarium and hospital for the last few months, has been discharged and will leave today for her home.

highways. Mrs. Foor is a member of the Women's Press club of Indiana and has been in newspaper work for a number of years.

She would like to see the Glendale Press and also the Glendale Sanitarium and hospital where she resided for some time.

Walter Brinkop, candidate for state treasurer, left for San Francisco and Oakland Saturday to meet with the committees which are in charge of his campaign in the Northern cities.

Brinkop for treasurer clubs are being organized by the ex-service men in San Francisco and Oakland and one is soon to be formed in Sacramento.

While in the north, Brinkop will attend the fifth anniversary reunion of the First Officers' Training Camp at the Presidio of San Francisco, where hundreds of the first volunteers of 1917 will gather for the first time since the stirring days of our entry into the great war.

BUTTE COUNTY WAKES UP AS LUMBER MOVES

New Tracts of Virgin Timber Are Opened Up by Big Concerns

CHICO, Calif., May 12.—Butte county's lumber camps are showing signs of renewed activities, and soon the sound of the buzz saws will be heard from most of the well-established camps. New tracts of virgin lumber are being exploited this year. Several new railroad lines are being pushed into the stands of timber, and new logging camps are being built. The timber is mostly California white pine, a sprinkling of sugar pine and white and red fir. The motor truck is becoming prominent in the logging industry of the county, both in porting logs and the finished lumber. It has completely replaced the antiquated horse-drawn logging trucks, which turn, had displaced the heavy ox sleds of 20 years ago.

THE EVENING STORY

STAYING HOME

(Copyright, 1921, by W. Werner)

"Blanche, I can't find a shirt with buttons on it."

"Gracious, Ben, how long you take to dress. I thought you'd be out to help me do the dishes. The ice man came, for once on time, and I'll have to wipe up the milk before I can slip into my suit. There's some one at the back door. Will you go?"

"It is the janitor," returned Ben, looking back over his shoulder as he held the kitchen door half open. "He says he wants to come in here to work and for you to leave the key."

"Leave the key. I don't want to do that. Tomorrow is Saturday. Tell him to come right after lunch and I'll be here."

When the janitor had gone away muttering about the inconvenience of doing the repairs on such a busy day as Saturday, Blanche ran around closing windows and getting the laundry to leave.

"How about my laundry?" growled Ben, coming out with a flushed face. "I haven't a single soft collar."

Blanche adjusted her blouse. "Don't you remember, you took it to the cash-and-carry store?"

"You'll have to stop for it tonight. We can't have it delivered when there's no one home all day."

"It wouldn't take you very long to do up a few collars. You iron them better than the laundry."

"No, I know it wouldn't. There are so many things about the house that I can do well and I rather like to do much time and the meals and dishes take most of that. Still, Blanche regarded her trim self in the mirror, when I'm through and ready to go I don't mind working. There's so much excitement down town and I love to buy pretty things."

"This month because I'm going to get one of those wonderful suits at Murray's. They are hand-embroidered and deeply fringed and marked down to—"

Blanche turned an experimental eye upon her husband—only $110. With a really good blouse and pumps and a hat to match, I'll have a good outfit. I can't get the hat this time, but I can with my next pay. Aren't we getting along splendidly, saving so much?"

Ben double locked the front door as they went out. He always worried about leaving the flat alone all day, for they had some fine pieces of silver, and a lot of books were working, but I don't see that we are so much ahead at the end of the year," he remarked.

"And, Blanche, we don't get much out of life. We hurry away mornings unrefreshed, and after working all day we go back to an unair-conditioned flat, with a thousand petty duties that must be done before the morning. I wish you would give up your work and keep house again."

Blanche drew in a long breath of the fresh spring air and looked complacently at her smart white kid gloves. "But I can dress so much better when I work. Aren't you glad you have a capable wife? I believe I'll send this suit to be cleaned; it looks dirty. If you get home first I'll want to carry anything with these gloves because they are clean," she concluded.

Ben nodded, but his wife resumed, "and open all the windows and look at the ice-cream parlor. The overworked. Then peel some potatoes and put them on in boiling salted water. Mr. Taylor said he would have some extra work tonight, so I may not get home until 7 o'clock, but I told him I'd rather get everything out of the way before Saturday on account of my husband's arm. Ben, I forgot about our trip and I told the janitor I'd stay home tomorrow afternoon! There is something in the bathroom that leaks and it will have to be fixed or it will spoil the decorations below. Dear me, but I'm disappointed. Do you mind very much?"

Ben did not answer immediately. He stood looking at the "L" ticket he held. His wife took the Broadway car, as that took her directly to her work, while he went on the elevated. "Of course, I'm sorry to have you miss the trip, but I guess it can't be helped. The leak will have to be repaired and the plumber could come with the janitor on Sunday. Oh, well, perhaps you can go another time. I'll explain to Mrs. Grogg how sorry you are not to go and she'll probably take another guest in your seat. I'll miss you, too," he said.

The car drew nearer. Blanche looked at her husband incredulously. "You are going without me? Let me stay home to look after the

REALTORS TO MEET UNDER THE BIG TREES

First Convention to Be Held in the Shade of Big Red Woods

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—America's first convention to be held in a grove of California Big Trees will be that of the National Association of Real Estate Boards when it meets in San Francisco for its five day session beginning May 15.

Local realtors point out the beauty of this—the trees, the old of living things, and the provision, dealing with the world's best commodity.

Although the convention is to be held in the shade of the million year old sequoia trees in San Francisco's civic center, crews of men are now engaged in picking up specimens of California's best Redwoods, which will be used as the convention's emblem.

The trees will be transported from the heart of the Sequoia mountains, a distance of 100 miles, to the city. They will be supported by the men of the Sequoia National Park, and the trees will be planted in the city.

The convention will be held in the shade of the trees, which are the best of their kind in the world. The trees are the best of their kind in the world, and the convention will be held in the shade of the trees.

SAFETY TRAIL OF CALIFORNIA IS BEING FOLLOWED

So Declares Corporation Commissioner on 3 Per Cent Plan

SACRAMENTO, May 13.—"Other states are apparently following the safety trail California has again blazed for them through another uncharted forest of financing methods."

This was the comment of Corporation Commissioner E. M. Daugherty following the receipt of dispatches from Little Rock, Arkansas, relating to a legal battle of a so-called "three per cent" company. These dispatches stated that the State Bank Commissioner of Arkansas has won another round in his effort to restrain certain "three per cent" or co-operative home-building companies.

Daugherty's five other states have obtained copies of the requirements these co-operative loan companies must meet if they operate in the state of California. These states are following California's lead in attempting to place these co-operative companies on a sound financial basis and maintain a fair, just and equitable method of operation for both promoters and contract purchasers.

The following from the Arkansas Democrat, Little Rock, gives the latest developments in the battle between the state officials and the company:

Characterizing the three per cent loan contract of the Co-operative Home Builders of Arkansas as a contract "that can not and will not be fulfilled," Chancellor Martineau Thursday dissolved a recent injunction issued permitting the operation of the company without interference from the state bank commissioner, and issued an order restraining them from doing further business in the state. The chancellor, however, refused to appoint a receiver for the company, as asked by the bank commissioner, on the grounds that receivership proceedings must be instigated by contract holders of the company.

Attorneys for the loan company announced an appeal to the state supreme court, and the chancellor issued an order restraining all prosecution of any nature, pending the settlement of the case by the supreme court. He also allowed the company to collect payments on its contracts already in force, pending final settlement of the case.

The suit was instigated by the company several months ago, after it had been refused to operate by the state banking department. The company contended that business of the character conducted by it, did not fall under the supervision of the department. At the time that the suit was filed, the chancellor granted them a temporary restraining order, allowing them to do business in the state pending settlement of the suit.

Following the instigation of the suit, Charles McKee, state bank commissioner, through Will G. Akers, attorney for the department, filed a cross-complaint, alleging that the contract written by the company was one that worked a fraud upon the purchaser, inasmuch as it could not be successfully fulfilled.

In his ruling Thursday, Chancellor Martineau held that the bank commissioner was entirely within his rights in refusing the company a permit to do business in the state, and that all similar companies were under the direct control of the banking department.

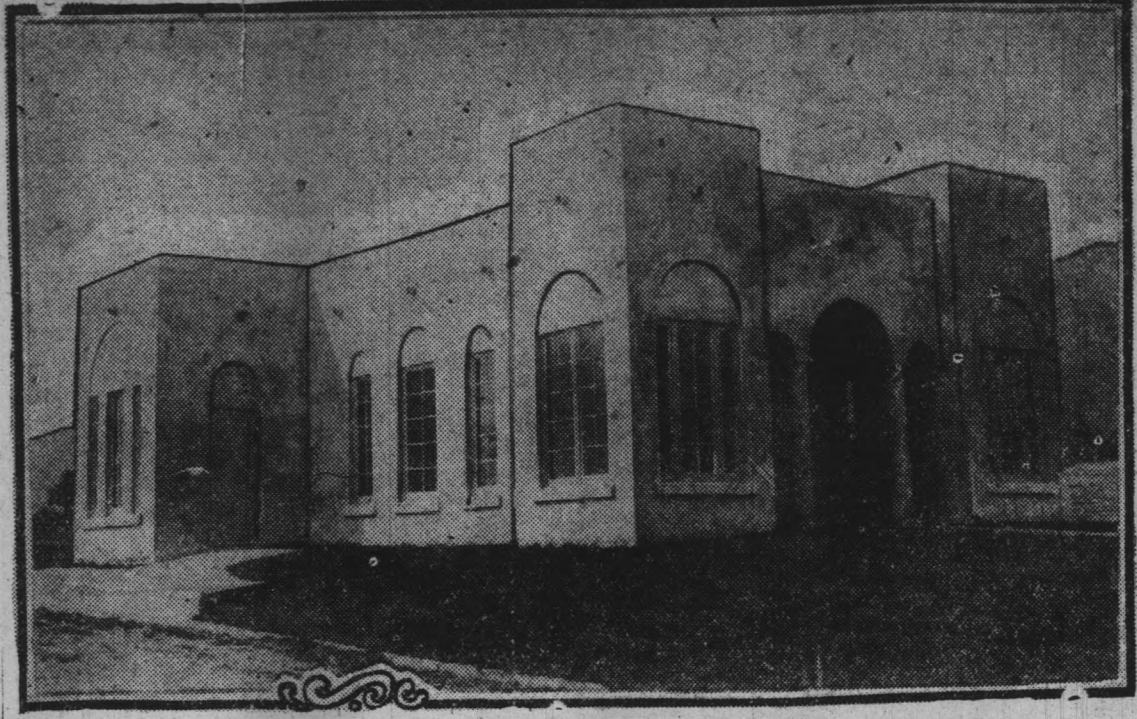

"No matter how good and honest the people at the head of the concern are," Judge Martineau said, "their contract is one that can not be fulfilled, and they are deceiving themselves and other people if they think it can."

The first few people that take out contracts in the business are safe in their investment, according to the chancellor, but those holding contracts of a later number cannot hope to have them fulfilled. The contract is such that the assets of the company are gradually decreased as the loans are made on contracts, and as a result, the company can only fail in the end, even though it operate for a considerable length of time.

"The fact that the first few contract holders are entirely safe," said the chancellor, "is borne out by the fact that the first contracts issued by the company are held by officers and employees."

The defect in the contract, according to the chancellor, comes through the fact that it makes no inducement to the investor. The contract is written solely for the borrower, and then its provisions, are such that no borrower who investigated the contract fully would comply with its provisions.

BEAUTIFUL NEW CHAPEL OF GRAND VIEW MEMORIAL PARK IN GLENDALE

ROADSIDE TREES TO BE PLANTED BY STATE

Beautification of Many Highways Will Be Sought

There is something restful and assuring about the strong and beautiful chapel at the wonderful Grand View Memorial Park, Glendale's own cemetery. This beautiful new chapel was finished a short time ago at a cost of about $25,000. It is made entirely of concrete, with solid brass trimmings, and constitutes the first of a series of buildings to be erected by the management of this memorial park. Plans have already been started for the wonderful mausoleum that will be started in this park before a great while. This will be one of the most beautiful features of this kind on the Pacific Coast.

From all indications in the great plan of nature Grand View memorial park was destined for a high purpose to which it has reverently been dedicated. The natural beauty of its location has been the subject of enthusiastic comment. The trees lift their heads heavenward, and their wide-spreading branches, like sheltering arms, reach silently over the hallowed ground. A well-planned scheme of shrubbery and plants, and wide expanse of lawn, carry out the decorative scheme for this park. To the north and serving as a background for this most wonderful of resting places, lie the beautiful and ever-interesting Verdugo hills.

Surely Grand View Memorial Park is God's "Garden of Sleep."

OAKRIDGE TRACT, GLENDALE BEAUTY SPOT, OPENS

One of Finest Subdivisions in City Is Ready for Absorption

One of the finest subdivisions that has been opened in Glendale is now ready to be placed on the market by the Guillemain Investment company of this city.

The name of this new tract will be Oak Ridge, and it is a very appropriate name for this beautiful tract, which is adjacent to the green hills of southeastern Glendale, and these verdant hills are noted for their wonderful live oak trees.

The tract is located on the northeast slope of the hills and was originally set out to peaches and every lot will have some of these trees.

East Cypress street, which is now at the entrance of the tract, will continue through the tract to Oak Ridge drive, and will be a scenic driveway.

Oak Ridge drive which intersects Cypress street continues to Hill street. There is no question but that this is one of the finest view properties in Southern California, as a magnificent view of Glendale and the surrounding country and mountains may be had from this tract, and as was remarked by a gentleman who happened to be on the place recently, "I have traveled a great deal but I have never seen anything finer than this view."

The Guillemain Investment company will make this a high class property in every respect. E. L. Garretson & Son, the contractors, are now at work with their new type road grading equipment grading the streets. Other improvements, including ornamental street lights will follow as quickly as possible. Reservations will be high enough to insure a fine class of residences and protect the investor. The climatic conditions in this location are exceptionally good, being cool in summer, a gentle breeze coming through the Los Feliz pass.

The southeastern section of the city is fast coming into its own on account of its ideal location and its close connection with all the main roads to Los Angeles.

Oak Ridge is nicely located near to car line on Brand boulevard, being only three blocks distant, near to good schools, in fact in this tract one can realize that he is in the heart of a city and still has all the advantages of a country home. It will surely be worth any one's time to go to this wonderful property and inspect it.

WOODWORKING SHOP OF HIGH IS DESCRIBED

Work Is Satisfactorily Progressing Says the Instructor

The past session in the Woodworking Shop has been very satisfactory, and encouraging from the Teacher's view point and we believe the same can be said from the student's side of the question. Of course, in all night school work the attendance varies considerably, owing to the need of sustained interest on the part of the student, or he may leave the locality, and quite a number of reasons may be given for this. In spite of all these drawbacks the Woodworking and Cabinet Shop have been quite a busy section of the night classes held. These classes are held on Tuesday and Thursdays at 7:00 p. m. until 9 p. m. In the past session so many articles have been made, and some still in the making, that the list would be too long to enumerate here. To quote, a few lessons have been given in Woodturning and several very neat floor lamps have been made by the students in this section. Again some students have devoted their time in the making of furniture for the home and chifferoniers and library tables have added their beauty to the homes and experience to the student. For those who have desired the Carpenter only a model bungalow has been built and the experience thus gained must have been of great service to the student who built it. It has been built to scale and represents a house 36 feet by 10 feet. We are looking for even greater results in the coming session. Those who

FIND THE WOMAN HOLDS SCREEN

See "Find the Woman" at the T. D. & L. theatre today, where it is being shown for the last time. A comedy will be shown to boot that will make you chuckle and laugh yourself almost inside out.

What is it makes a man admire a girl? Is it her clothes or is it her personality? How should a girl go about winning the man of her choice?

These very vital questions find an interesting and delightful answer in "Beauty's Worth," starring Marion Davies, a photoplay created by Cosmopolitan Productions, which is coming to the T. D. & L. theatre Sunday.

There will also be a special Harold Lloyd comedy, "The Goat," and an added attraction, "The Battle of the Jutlands."

Ralph Allan says, "Tell everybody, as a reminder, to get ready to laugh their heads off—Charlie Chaplin, the king of comedy kings, will be at the T. D. & L. Tuesday in his latest, "Pay Day." It is cashable in one million dollars worth of laughs.

PETS BANNED AT YOSEMITE PARK

Automobile Club Announces They Must Be Left at Home

Pet pups, cats, parrots, canaries, and all other domestic animals dear to household hearts will again be banned by the national parks of California this summer.

No motorists may take Fido or Tabby with them if they are vacationing in the Yosemite, Sequoia, or General Grant reserves, according to an official announcement just made by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Motorists had expressed hope that they would be allowed to take their pets with them vacationing in the reserves, but the government has decided that the same rules in vogue last year will hold also for this year, and the Auto Club is warning all accordingly.

Those motorists passing through the big parks, however, and not stopping, may carry their pets along, but no stopovers will be allowed.

Yosemite Valley will be opened officially about May 15, the date having been postponed five days on account of road conditions.

General Grant National Park will also open on or about May 15. The great Sequoia reserve will not open to touring visitors until June 1. Later information on these dates will be supplied by the club's touring bureaus.

Bear Valley in the Southern part of California will have all routes opened by the latter part of this month. At the present time, motorists may reach the valley by way of the Victorville route.

Mrs. Chatterton—Love me still? Her husband—Certainly! In fact, I prefer you that way!

FAIR AND SQUARE CLEANERS HERE

Fair and Square Cleaners, 3409 1/2 Glendale boulevard, has experienced a wonderful growth since its opening a short time ago and the manager of the institution says that the prospects for a profitable, profitable summer season are unusually bright. The growth of the company corresponds to the treatment that it endeavors to give to every customer, and it is believed that this fair and square business is in a large measure responsible for the success experienced by the firm.

Another feature that has aided the success is the honest work that the firm has turned out since its day of business. Every article cleaned is the very best of consideration and nothing is turned out that is right up to the mark. All work is guaranteed and the firm is ready at all times to make a piece of work good that may in any way prove unsatisfactory.

A store, long vacant, is a hovel on a community. No good store should be without a tenant. Advertise—and keep at it until the tenant is found.

NOT BANKERS SAY WERNETTE AND SAWYER

Object of Classification in Advertising Copy of Press

In an advertisement which appeared in Thursday's edition of the Glendale Daily Press the advertising department in making up the heading for the copy classed Wernette & Sawyer, the popular real estate firm, used the words "bankers, brokers and builders."

This title as given the firm was wholly an error on the part of our advertising department. While the firm finances and builds homes and sells real estate, it objects to being called bankers.

AN UNFINISHED JOB

The Golf Bug—Well, the clubhouse burned down, a total loss, but, of course, we still can use the links.

The Golf Widow—Isn't it too bad the links didn't burn with the clubhouse?

HOW FAR IS IT FROM YOUR HOME?

Is your office and your home at "opposite ends of creation"? Couldn't you use your "going and coming" time to better advantage?

"If I could have the quiet environment of my country home, and still be within 15 minutes of Broadway, I'd be interested"—you say.

Then you should buy a hilltop homesite in the Hills of Ivanhoe. To Broadway,

As a Place to Live

where quietude, convenience and scenic beauty combine, even mountain resorts do not excel, these green hills encircling Silver Lake, Los Angeles' largest body of water. We pay for all improvements. Water is already in. You can start building immediately. Gas and electricity can be had on request. The Sierra Madres from these hills are sights of surpassing grandeur.

As an Investment

If you want to make money in real estate, buy ahead of highway developments. A program calling for vast expenditures in building and paving highways through Ivanhoe Hills has been perfected. Work will be started by the City of Los Angeles soon. These highways converge and cross at the unit now selling. They include Griffith Park Blvd. (Childs Ave.), Hyperion Ave. and Rowena Ave. One will be a link of the Lincoln Highway, another part of a short cut from Pasadena to the ocean.
